

We are all in this together. During this challenging time, our commitment to conquering all blood cancers remains steadfast.

Dear Friends,

We hope that you and your loved ones are safe and staying informed.

The Leukemia Research Foundation remains thoroughly committed to the health and care of those in the blood cancer community, while we continue our pursuit of the ultimate cure.

Like others, we have made the important decision to close our office. During this time, we remain available to support your needs and are fully prepared for a virtual workforce environment.

- For information specific to COVID-19 and cancer, please click this link to access the information we have on our website.
- While the Leukemia Research Foundation office is closed, our staff continues to be available via phone, email or social media. Please do not hesitate to reach out to us. You may call the office at 847.424.0600 and leave a message for any staff member. Just listen to the prompts and press the corresponding number to reach whomever you need. We will respond to your message as soon as we can. If you would prefer to send us an email, you'll find email addresses for our staff at the bottom of this link.
- We continue to evaluate our options concerning future, in-person events. Visit our website for further updates and information or reach out to us with any questions.

Thank you for supporting the Leukemia Research Foundation and our mission. Our community - patients, researchers, doctors, donors, volunteers, Board, employees - are sure to continue our relentless commitment. Our work, together, doesn't stop as the world changes.

Please continue to visit www.allbloodcancers.org and follow us on social media. #TogetherItsPossible

Sincerely,
Leukemia Research Foundation
